

ACS4000 End of Life Notice

ACS4000 End of Life Notice – February 2018

We have extended the end of life (EOL) date for the ACS4000 panel to be effective on June 30, 2018.

It is imperative that all end users start the upgrade process as soon as possible so they are not negatively affected by this action.

After this date, the panel will no longer communicate with Brivo Onair and will not be supported by Brivo Technical Support. This EOL is necessary to maintain the overall Onair system at the technical standards expected by our customers and at the levels promised by Brivo.

Users should replace their ACS4000 hardware to a supported panel well before the EOL date to ensure continuation of uninterrupted service.

The ACS4000 is superseded by the new ACS6000 and ACS300 panels.

For assistance with your upgrade, please contact your local dealer or sales-services@brivo.com.
